SUMMARY: The Green's Farms Congregational Church Records contain original documentation that traces the history of the church, and in early days, local governance in the Westport area.

HISTORICAL NOTE:

For more detailed historical information see various documents in Series 5, including the 300th anniversary commemorative booklet.

Chronology:

1711 May: A petition was granted by the Connecticut General Court establishing the West Parish of Fairfield. This meant that settlers in what is now Westport no longer needed to travel six miles to church in Fairfield.

1711 June: The first parish meeting held with John Andrews chosen recorder and 70 pounds voted as the salary of the minister, Daniel Chapman. The church at this time served as local government, collecting taxes, managing schools, and electing a selectman to govern.

1715 October 26: The church organized as the Church of Christ, Daniel Chapman ordained, and a covenant signed by Rev. Daniel Chapman, Joseph Lockwood, Jonathan Squire, Joshua Jennings, Henry Gray, Samuel Couch, John Andrews, and Thomas Nash.

1720-1736: The church's first meeting house was completed in 1720 and used until 1736. It was a square unheated building (36' x 36') with rough-hewn logs for seats. The building also served as a defensive stronghold.

1736-1779: The second meeting building, on Green's Farms Road, was rectangular-shaped (52' x 40') with a short spire and belfry. George Washington visited this meeting house in 1775.

1779 July 8: The second meeting house was burned by the British during the Revolutionary War. Land for a new meeting house was chosen on Hillandale Road, closer to the center of the community. It was begun in 1780 and completed in 1789.

1789-1852: The third meeting house was larger than its predecessors and had a steeple. Pews were sold at public auction to raise money for the building, with the highest bidders having first choice of location.

1808: Adoption of first Confession of Faith to be used in the admission of members.

1817: Sabbath School established

1822: Adoption of revised Constitution, Confession of Faith and Covenant

1852 April 12: The third meeting house burned. Rebuilding started in the same location.

1853-present: The fourth meeting house was completed in 1853. Windstorms toppled its steeple in 1856 and again in 1950.

1890: Parish house added; organ installed.

1929: "Soldiers' Row" of fifteen trees planted to pay tribute to men of parish who served in World War I.

1948: Certificate of organization for the purpose of becoming a corporation under the name of The Congregational Church of Green's Farms, Connecticut

1953: Dedication of new steeple, remodeled and enlarged church and Sunday School buildings

1961: New addition provided offices, church school rooms, social hall
